

Issue: Discuss whether revisions (technical or editorial) and affirmations of approved products are subject to the new requirements of Rule 9B-72 as implemented January 1, 2006.

Background:

- (1) January 1, 2006, the new revised Rule 9B-72 went into effect.
- (2) The revised rule and new PA website provide for several enhancements (i.e. organize the products by model number with installation instruction and information specific to each model, installation instruction must be verified, certificate of authorization for listed product must be uploaded, installation instruction must be provided for all compliance methods...etc.) for the purpose of making the PA system more informative and user friendly to all users.

Staff Recommendation:

- (1) Editorial revision and affirmation are not required to meet the new requirements of Rule 9B-72.
- (2) Technical Revision will trigger compliance with the new provisions of Rule 9B-72.