61G20-6.002 The virtual majority of the entire language is filled with ambiguities and the clearly abiding opportunity for a potential Accreditor's Evaluator to act arbitrarily and capriciously with regard to one's perceptions and interpretations of an Applicant Accreditor's Credentials. I.E., who determines the credentialed worthiness of the Evaluators? This matter runs into who is and is not an Expert Witness in a Florida Court of Law. This opposition is the predicate for my opposition to the entirety of this series and sequence of Rules pursuant to several provisions of Chapter 120, F.S., namely S 120.52; 120.54; 120.56; and 120.57 et seq per relevance. I expressly and explicitly reserve the right of Appeal/s.
