Mr. Modani

It was a pleasure speaking with you today regarding my declaratory statement submittal and Mr. Harvey's response. Throughout all of our conversations you remind me that a declaratory statement can only be made on future projects and under the current code cycle. If there is an ongoing construction under the 2017 FBC regulations; similar to what is currently occurring in the specific development within Mr. Harvey's jurisdiction in Port St. Lucie County, and a declaratory statement or clarification is needed due to a material code violation and possible life safety issue. Please provide the appropriate venue in which this can be accomplished. I have been unable to locate within the Florida Administrative Code where it states declaratory statements are only available to future projects and under current code cycle. Please provide where such stipulation can be found.
