CERTIFICATE OF INDEPENDENCE

TWINING CONSULTING INC.

This document certifies that Twining Consulting Inc. operates with full independence, impartiality, and integrity in providing inspection, listing, and testing services.

Independence and Financial Interest

1. Twining Consulting Inc. does not have, nor will it acquire, any financial interest in companies engaged in the manufacturing, distribution, or sale of products that it inspects, tests, or lists.
2. Twining Consulting Inc. is not owned, controlled, or influenced by any manufacturer, supplier, or distributor of the products it evaluates.
3. Twining Consulting Inc. does not hold financial stakes—such as stock ownership, partnerships, or direct investments—in any entity whose products are subject to its inspection, testing, or listing services.

Impartiality and Conflict of Interest

4. Twining Consulting Inc. ensures that all personnel involved in inspections, testing, and listings remain free from conflicts of interest that could compromise the integrity of their evaluations.
5. Employees and representatives of Twining Consulting Inc. are prohibited from engaging in the design, manufacturing, or distribution of any product that is subject to the company's inspection, testing, or listing services.
6. Any potential conflicts of interest are subject to strict internal review and mitigation measures in accordance with ISO/IEC 17020 and ISO/IEC 17025 to uphold objectivity and compliance with industry standards.

Operational Independence

7. Twining Consulting Inc. conducts all inspections, testing, and listings in accordance with internationally recognized standards, including ISO/IEC 17020 for inspections and ISO/IEC 17025 for testing, ensuring technical competence and impartiality.
8. Twining Consulting Inc. does not accept incentives, commissions, or compensations that may influence the outcome of its evaluations, nor does it engage in activities that could undermine the credibility of its listings or test results.
9. The company adheres to strict confidentiality protocols, ensuring that proprietary information obtained during inspections, testing, or listing evaluations is not disclosed to unauthorized third parties.
10. Twining Consulting Inc. upholds transparency, objectivity, and professional integrity in all aspects of its operations, maintaining independence from external influences that could affect the impartiality of its services.

This certification affirms Twining Consulting Inc.'s commitment to maintaining the highest standards of independence, professionalism, and compliance in all its inspection, testing, and listing activities.
